The Spring Of 31 Little Shoppe of Horrors & BearManor Media In Cry Fire, are true stories of a Fire Company located in Williamsburg Brooklyn New York City, during the time of unrest and racial strife of the late Sixties and Early Seventies. At that time Firefighting companies responded to a staggering increase in alarms. These alarms included structural fires, false alarms, minor fires and emergencies. During these times Firefighters were subject to buildings being booby trapped, and firefighters being ambushed, where their means of exiting streets were cutoff with debris and missiles thrown off roofs at them, which included Molotov Cocktales. They also had bricks and stones thrown at them as they responded to fires. The old time respect for firefighters in certain areas disappeared, It was if we were working in a different country, not the same country that most of us new in days gone by. Now we were the enemy, not the men that saved lives and property. To some it didn't matter that we were the men who would risk our lives to save possibly people of their own families. Most people in these areas were decent and law abiding people, but then there were the others. This book has been long in coming. But the story had to be told. If anything, for those Brothers who lost their lives trying to help others. This book is dedicated to them and their families. God Bless them all.

The Water Supply of Wiltshire from Underground Sources

Little Shoppe of Horrors #31 We have an interesting balance of films we are covering in this issue, with lots of inside information, great stories, and photos! Featuring - Hammer 1971 DEMONS OF THE MIND. A truly original story that was hardly distributed in the UK or the USA, but was thought provoking, beautifully photographed and acted. Not a classic but one of Hammer better films of the 1970s. y Bruce G. Hallenbeck. - Interviews with " Frank Godwin (Producer) by Denis Meikle " Peter Sykes (Director) by Jonathan Sothcott " Robert Hardy (Baron Zorn) by David Taylor

" Shane Briant (Emil) by Bruce G. Hallenbeck " Virginia Wetherell (Inge) by Bruce G. Hallenbeck " Peter Sykes after Hammer by David Taylor " No Laughing Matter - The Making of TROG. It is one of those "so awful it is fun to watch" films, produced by Herman Cohen, directed by Freddie Francis and Starring Joan Crawford and Michael Gough. The whole behind-the-scenes story by John Hamilton. The Making and Censorship of William Castle's THE OLD DARK HOUSE (Hammer 1961): Columbia Pictures combined their two horror super stars - William Castle and Hammer - for their one and only film together. By Tim Rogerson. Another in our series of "A History of Horror Film Fanzines"... CINEFANTASTIQUE "Citizen Clarke" by Tim Lucas "CFQ British Correspondent" by Chris Knight. All our regular Features - "Fools Rush In...!" (Editorial by the Famous Klem), Letters to LSoH, Ralph's One-and-Only Traveling Reviews Company, and Hammer News! Front Cover by Steve Karchin - inside cover by Paul Watts - Back Cover by Mark Maddox. Lots of original artwork and rare photos!

A History of the Greek and Roman World, first published in 1926, presents the story of Graeco-Roman antiquity from its earliest recorded origins to the height of the Roman imperium. It aims to bring into prominence the internal dynamism - political, cultural, intellectual, and aesthetic - which animated the ancient peoples at different periods of their history, and to draw attention to the physical, socio-economic and religious conditions under which they lived. Written in a style which will likely be unfamiliar to modern readers, Grundy's historical portrait is painted with broad brush-strokes, offering not only compelling narrative but also incisive commentary on the individuals and societies which occupy the foreground. A History of the Greek and Roman World will be of interest for the general enthusiast as well as students, who may value such a radically different approach to the interpretation of antiquity compared to the conventions which prevail amongst contemporary scholars.
