Li Bai (李白, 701-762), also known as the Poet-immortal (诗仙), was one of the most acclaimed Chinese poets from the Tang Dynasty (唐朝, 618-907). In the "Selected Chinese Poems of Li Bai" (李白诗选) book series, let's learn some of the most famous ancient poems composed by Li Bai! Each book in the series contains 10 Chinese poems. These books will help you self-learn Mandarin Chinese language, culture, and history while appreciating the Chinese poems. Each book comes with the poems written in simplified Chinese characters. Each poem is explained in the form of a dedicated essay. Further, detailed vocabulary with pinyin and English has been provided for each of the poems. All titles in the series are suitable for the beginner (HSK Level 1/2) students of Mandarin Chinese. Additional poems and resources for learning Mandarin Chinese is available on my personal blog (www.ChinesePoems.net). Looking forward to your comments.

This is the first book to approach the study of Classical Chinese
through verse instead
of prose. Script, grammar and vocabulary are taught from scratch. The work can be used as a first introduction to traditional literary Chinese by anyone
with no knowledge of the language. It is also suitable as part of a course in Classical Chinese for private study with or without previous knowledge of Chinese. The exercises are progressive in that each is restricted to the vocabulary and
grammar met so far.
The book serves as an introduction to Chinese verse for its own sake.

It will be of great interest to ethnic Chinese wishing to recover their cultural roots.

This supplemental volume continues the rigorous standard set forth in the main, three-volume Classical Chinese: A Basic Reader while reinforcing its linguistic lessons from carefully chosen representative works. Comprised of three parts--"Poetry," "Lyrics," and "Prose"--it presents texts, chronologically, that represent the artistic embodiment of China's Confucian and Taoist thought. Two introductions separately describe the structural and formal features of regulated verse and parallel prose; each genre is unique to Chinese literature yet both share common characteristics tempered by the Chinese language. The main text and its four supplementary volumes together represent the most comprehensive and authoritative textbook on the language, literature, philosophy, history, and religion of premodern China. Field-tested and fine-tuned for years in classroom settings by three members of the Chinese Linguistics Project at Princeton University, it is the definitive new resource for students and instructors of classical Chinese language or culture.

The Old Woman and Her Pig (Simplified Chinese)

Hua Shan Art and Literature Press
This book presents the first translation into English of the full text of the Kaogong ji. This classic work, described by the great scholar of the history of Chinese science and technology Joseph Needham as "the most important document for the study of ancient Chinese technology", dates from the fifth century BC and forms part of the Zhouli (The Rites of the Zhou Dynasty), one of the great Confucian classics. The text itself describes the techniques of working and the technologies used by over twenty different kinds of craftsmen and artificers, such as metal workers, chariot makers, weapon makers, music instrument makers, potters and master builders. This edition, besides providing the full text in English, also provides a substantial introduction and other supporting explanatory material, over one hundred illustrations of ancient Chinese artefacts, and the original Chinese text itself.
