 WRITING WITH A THESIS: A RHETORIC AND READER is based on the persuasive principle-the development and support of a thesis in order to persuade a reader, which is exactly the skill beginning writers in freshman composition just like you need to develop. The book dispenses clear and practical writing advice in a clear and practical way. Leavened with lots of good humor-in both its advice and in its examples of good professional writing- WRITING WITH A THESIS is renowned for being useful and enjoyable to read. Nineteen of the book's 50 professional essays are new to this edition and 3 of 10 student essays are also new, providing fresh voices, variety, and relevance. Almost all of the essays are short and easy to read so that class time can be devoted not to what the readings mean, but to what they mean for your writing. Students receive the most up-to-date information on MLA documentation with the enclosed tri-fold card providing NEW 2009 MLA Handbook formats.

Tanja Schultz and Katrin Kirchhoff have compiled a comprehensive overview of speech processing from a multilingual perspective. By taking this all-inclusive approach to speech processing, the editors have included theories, algorithms, and techniques that are required to support spoken input and output in a large variety of languages. Multilingual Speech Processing presents a comprehensive introduction to research problems and solutions, both from a theoretical as well as a practical perspective, and highlights technology that incorporates the increasing necessity for multilingual applications in our global community. Current challenges of speech processing and the feasibility of sharing data and system components across different languages guide contributors in their discussions of trends, prognoses and open research issues. This includes automatic speech recognition and speech synthesis, but also speech-to-speech translation, dialog systems, automatic language identification, and handling non-native speech. The book is complemented by an overview of multilingual resources, important research trends, and actual speech processing systems that are being deployed in multilingual human-human and human-machine interfaces. Researchers and developers in industry and academia with different backgrounds but a common interest in multilingual speech processing will find an excellent overview of research problems and solutions detailed from theoretical and practical perspectives. State-of-the-art research with a global perspective by authors from the USA, Asia, Europe, and South Africa The only comprehensive introduction to multilingual speech processing currently available Detailed presentation of technological advances integral to security, financial, cellular and commercial applications

New Syllabus Additional Mathematics (NSAM) is a series of textbooks and workbooks designed to prepare students for the Singapore-Cambridge GCE O-level examination in Additional Mathematics. Together with the textbook, the workbook will provide students with ample practice to apply the various skills and concepts learnt to solving problems in both examination and real-life situations. The workbook contains the following features: REVISION NOTES Revision Notes are found at the start of each chapter. They emphasise the important concepts and formulae in the chapter. PRACTICE QUESTIONS Practice Questions provide students with a wide range of questions for further practice. The questions are classified into three levels of difficulty. ♦ questions require students to use specific skills and concepts in the chapter directly to solve problems. ♦ questions require students to apply their skills and concepts to solve problems. ♦ questions require students to apply various skills and concepts, including the use of problem-solving skills, to solve problems. Revision Exercise The Revision Exercise is found after every few chapters to help students to recall and consolidate all the concepts learnt in these chapters. Mid-Year Specimen Papers and End-of-Year

Specimen Papers The Mid-Year Specimen Papers and End-of-Year Specimen Papers have been written to follow closely to the format of school's Mid-Year and End-of-Year examinations. It is hoped that when students use this book, to reinforce the concepts that they are weak in, they will eventually gain success in Additional Mathematics.

ACRES OF HUSTLE. EMPIRES OF LIES. Humboldt County, California: A distant and beautiful hinterland once propped-up by gold rush era timber barons. Now, since the counterculture revolution, it's the weed capital of America; the primary producer of high-quality grass for the entire nation. But now its 2011 and the price of weed in Humboldt has been falling rapidly for years as California and the rest of the nation aims to legalize it. Lucas was a young street-urchin who works now on a cannabis plantation in the heart of Humboldt grow country. Raised on the streets in southern California, he managed to stumble into the Redwood Empire on his way up the Pacific Crest Highway. It all seemed like a hippie paradise until new Lucas's boss, Rainbow, decided to hedge his bets against legalization and put the farm up for sale. Faced with becoming homeless again, he realizes his only chance to make everything back is to turn to the local hippie mafia. Lucas quickly finds himself battling double-crossing hippies, local mafias, and inner demons to achieve the life he was promised... will he be able to stay alive long enough to make it rich growing weed, before Cannabis is legal and worth less than cigarettes?
